Post Approval Plan Revision or Field Change - $168 per revised sheet submitted, not to exceed the original review fee

NOTES

- [1] Fees for stormwater plan review are required regardless of the grandfathering status of the project
- [2] Single Family = 1 dwelling unit on 1 lot
- [3] CPOD - Common Plan of Development - defined in the Stormwater Management Ordinance
- [4] Site Plan - commercial, office, industrial, multi-family (3 or more dwelling units on one parcel), or mixed use developments and RUD plans; includes Virginia Beach public facilities and school projects.
- [5] E&S Only Plan may only apply when a Stormwater (SW) Plan is not required; when Stormwater Plan is required, E&S measures are incorporated into the SW Plan and SW Plan review fee

Fees are based on Land Disturbing Area (LDA); LDA includes disturbed areas on-site, on any adjoining properties and in the right-of-way.

LDA includes off-site drainage and utility work

LDA includes open cuts and all other work in the right of way

LDA does not include milling and overlay of an existing street

If during review the LDA is determined to be larger than originally stated, additional review fees may be assessed prior to plan approval.

If the total City and State combined fee was paid to the Commonwealth of Virginia when registering for the 2014 Construction General Permit, the City's stormwater management plan review fee will not be assessed and proof of payment to the Commonwealth will be required.

Contiguous Multi-lot Residential single family or duplex site plans will be reviewed as either a site plan (no changes to existing lot lines) or a subdivision construction plan (lot line changes or new lots created).

Right-of-Way Permit and surety requirements will be determined during plan review.
