DSC Information Notice #194 September 19, 2012

Topic: Public Utilities Design Standard Manual Update

Background

Public Utilities has reorganized the Design Standards Manual to become more intuitive, provide additional clarity, and for better long term maintenance. The January 2012 Draft Manual was publicly vetted from March to mid April of this year. All comments that were received have been addressed. The new manual will be identified as the September 2012 Edition and will serve as a replacement to the July 2005 version.

Resource Location

The updated Design Standards Manual may be found on the Public Utilities/ Engineering & Construction/Standards & Forms/Standards Webpage by selecting the Design Standards Manual link in the middle of the page.
