Dear Mr. Spore:

I am proud to present the Virginia Beach Police Department's 2008 Annual Report.

The year 2008 was a very emotional year for the police family. We lost one of our own, Detective Mike Phillips, on August 7th in the line of duty. Detective Phillips was an undercover detective who was to meet with a target to conduct a drug buy. During the investigation, Detective Phillips was speaking with the primary suspect, when a second suspect approached and shot him with out warning, mortally wounding him. We dedicate our successes presented to you in this report to the memory of Mike.

In 2008 the department achieved many accomplishments and initiated a number of special programs. Three television documentaries, each highlighting a high profile homicide case solved by the Virginia Beach Homicide Detectives and members of the Forensic Unit, were produced in 2008. These productions brought national attention to the Virginia Beach Police Department and highlighted our investigating talent and forensic capabilities. Also in 2008, our Special Investigations Department partnered with NCIS to target suspects who where stealing gun parts from a military armory and manufacturing and selling weapons from those parts. Our work with NCIS resulted in several charges. Finally, the Police Department, in partnership with the City Attorney's Office, gathered sufficient evidence to justify an injunction against an ABC establishment. This injunction was the first ever motion granted in the Commonwealth of Virginia in which the establishment was found to be operating in such a manner as to pose a threat to public safety.

I am pleased to report that of all of the cities with a population over 350,000, Virginia Beach continues to have one of the lowest violent crime rates in the nation. We also continue to maintain a crime clearance rate well above the national average for cities of similar size. As always, I appreciate your continued support and that of City Council. It is a privilege to lead this department. I hope that you find the report helpful.

Sincerely,

A.M. Jacobs, Jr.
Chief of Police

In Remembrance of Detective Michael Smith Phillips

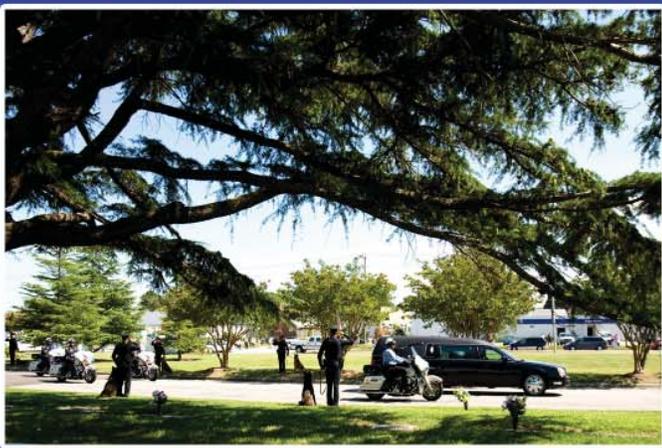

On Thursday, August 7, 2008, at approximately 11:14 p.m., detectives from Special Investigations were conducting a narcotics “buy-bust” operation in the parking lot of the Green Run Shopping Center located in the 3300 block of Holland Road. During the course of the operation, Detective Michael S. Phillips, 37, was shot multiple times in the upper torso. He was pronounced dead at the scene. Two suspects were taken into custody within moments. They were subsequently charged with 1st Degree Murder, Use of a Firearm in the Commission of a Felony, and Violation of the Drug Control Act. The suspect that shot Detective Phillips was subsequently charged with Capital Murder.

Detective Phillips was born on June 17, 1971 in Ithaca, N.Y., and was raised in Lansing, N.Y. Following graduation from High School, Mike went on to serve our Country in the U.S. Air Force for 4 years. Mike started his career in law enforcement when he joined the Hampton Police Department in 1999, and then joined the ranks of the Virginia Beach Police Department in October 2002 where he served faithfully for 6 years.

Mike was a generous person that was always there to help a friend or stranger in need. He was a volunteer firefighter and a baseball coach. He leaves behind his wife of 17 years and two young sons, to cherish his memory. His family was the light of his life.

In a message to his officers, Chief Jacocks stated, “...the loss of Detective Michael Phillips, one of our family, one of Virginia Beach’s finest, will have a long lasting impact on us. In fact, we will never forget. And we will continue as the premier law enforcement agency, setting the standard of excellence in his memory.”

Mike will be missed by all who knew him or worked with him throughout his life, but he will be remembered by all for the ultimate sacrifice he made. May God grant peace and comfort to his immediate and extended families.

Operations Division

Deputy Chief D. T. McGrattan, Jr., serves as the commander of the Operations Division, which includes the four police precincts, Special Operations, Animal Control, Command Duty Office, Crime Prevention, Community Service, and volunteers.

The First Precinct continues to expand the Community Policing philosophy to all aspects of uniform patrol within the precinct. While there are several examples of this philosophy in practice, the following case highlights the successful integration of a variety of community policing principles. After an increase in drug activity, other minor crimes, juvenile problems, trespassing, and calls for service in a particular neighborhood, officers began implementing community policing initiatives designed to address these significant issues. They worked with the residents and other city agencies, in addition to increasing patrol exposure and the use of Planned Patrols. Through their dedication, compassion and teamwork, the officers made considerable inroads in the community and over time their efforts were rewarded with a decrease in calls for service over the previous year, an increase in residents' participation in the Homeowner's Association, and an increase in the quality of life for residents due to the suppression of some of the noted crime issues.

The Second Precinct Community Oriented Policing personnel, with consultation from the City Attorney's Office and department leadership, gathered sufficient evidence to justify an injunction against an ABC establishment. It was the first ever motion in the Commonwealth of Virginia to result from an establishment operating in a manner that posed a threat to public safety.

The Second Precinct leadership team conducted an analysis of previous staffing levels for the Oceanfront area. Periods of likely increase in demand for police services were identified and personnel were assigned temporarily to meet those demands. This strategy resulted in considerable savings in overtime and it limited the reduction of staffing for the other parts of the city.

The Third Precinct continued to work closely with the city's residents to address concerns and to improve service and communication. One of the more popular ways this has been accomplished was by assigning officers as civic league liaisons. There are 35 civic leagues within the Third Precinct.

The liaisons regularly attend the civic league meetings and maintain contact with the civic league officials and members between meetings to address any concerns that arise. This has been very well received by the citizens of the precinct and it serves to further the community policing philosophy of the department.

The Fourth Precinct's Community Oriented Policing unit continued the 'Safe Park & Schools' initiative. The increased patrol of city parks and schools resulted in 50 arrests for charges such as trespassing, drug possession, carrying a concealed weapon, curfew violations, and drunk in public.

DEPARTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

VIRGINIA BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENT 2008 ANNUAL REPORT

The Marine Patrol, a division of Special Operations, was awarded $600,000 of federal funds under the Port Security Grant Program to purchase two suitable, year-round, inclement weather waterborne platforms configured with underwater camera systems. This would allow the continued commitment to Maritime Domain Awareness through security zone enforcement, patrol and interdiction, and high-value asset (HVA) escorts and protection. In addition to the HVA escorts, the Marine Patrol is committed to providing security for various parts of the infrastructure of the Port of Hampton Roads. Most notably, the Marine Patrol provides protection to such critical infrastructures as the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Tunnel, which includes the Thimble Shoal and Chesapeake Channels, and is operated by the Chesapeake Bay Bridge and Tunnel Commission, and offers coastal protection to Fort Story Army Base and Little Creek Amphibious Base, both owned by the United States military.

The Bomb Squad, a division of Special Operations, is one of 471 accredited civilian bomb squads in the country by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Bomb Squad responded to 102 incidents and calls for service, totalling to 516 officer-hours.

The Animal Control Bureau purchased a records management system module designed to track animal services. Animal Control spent significant time in 2008 preparing the bureau for the transition. The use of this software will allow shelter staff to be more efficient and provide for increased accountability of the animals at the shelter. Animal Control will fully implement the software package in early 2009.

Investigative Division

Deputy Chief J.A. Cervera serves as the commander of the Investigative Division. This division houses the Detective Bureau and Special Investigations.

Special Investigations initiated a joint investigation with NCIS that targeted suspects who were diverting gun parts from a military armory and manufacturing and selling weapons from those parts. As a result of the investigation, warrants were issued for three suspects. Some of the charges include one count of use of a machine gun for aggressive purposes, one count of selling a firearm to an individual prohibited from possessing a firearm, two counts of possession of stolen property with the intent to sell, and six counts of conspiracy to commit a felony. In addition three weapons were seized. The arrests resulted in the dismantling of a dangerous gun running and manufacturing enterprise that affected both civilian and military personnel.

The Detective Bureau Pawn Unit conducted a property sting operation dubbed "Truth or Consequences."

DEPARTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

VIRGINIA BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENT 2008 ANNUAL REPORT

The Pawn Unit obtained numerous abandoned items for Property and Evidence that would have otherwise have been auctioned. Special Investigations Detectives, operating undercover, took these items to various pawn and second hand establishments and sold them. The Pawn Unit monitored the reporting procedures from these establishments to ensure the items were being properly reported to the police department. Citations were issued for items that were not properly reported. There is a zero tolerance policy for misreporting.

The Forensic Service Unit (FSU) began the process of implementing the Live Scan system technology in criminal booking procedures and civil identification background checks. Funding for this equipment was awarded through two different grant sources. The grants provided for the purchase of two workstations in FSU and one workstation in the Second Precinct. Live Scan systems electronically obtain and submit quality known fingerprints directly to the Automated Fingerprint Identification System for registration and inquiry. This technology is designed to inform arresting officers within moments, if the identification provided by the offender matched that of known records in the database. The goal of this program is to improve our capabilities to accurately identify criminals in custody through fingerprint identification while reducing the number of fingerprint cards that are not usable for identification purposes. Full implementation is expected in early 2009.

Support Division

The Support Division is led by C. T. Mitchell and consists of several units providing administrative and support services to other Virginia Beach Police Department operations, City of Virginia Beach agencies, and to the public.

Renovations to the basement of headquarters were completed. These renovations provide much needed storage space for the department's property and evidence and a large conference room.

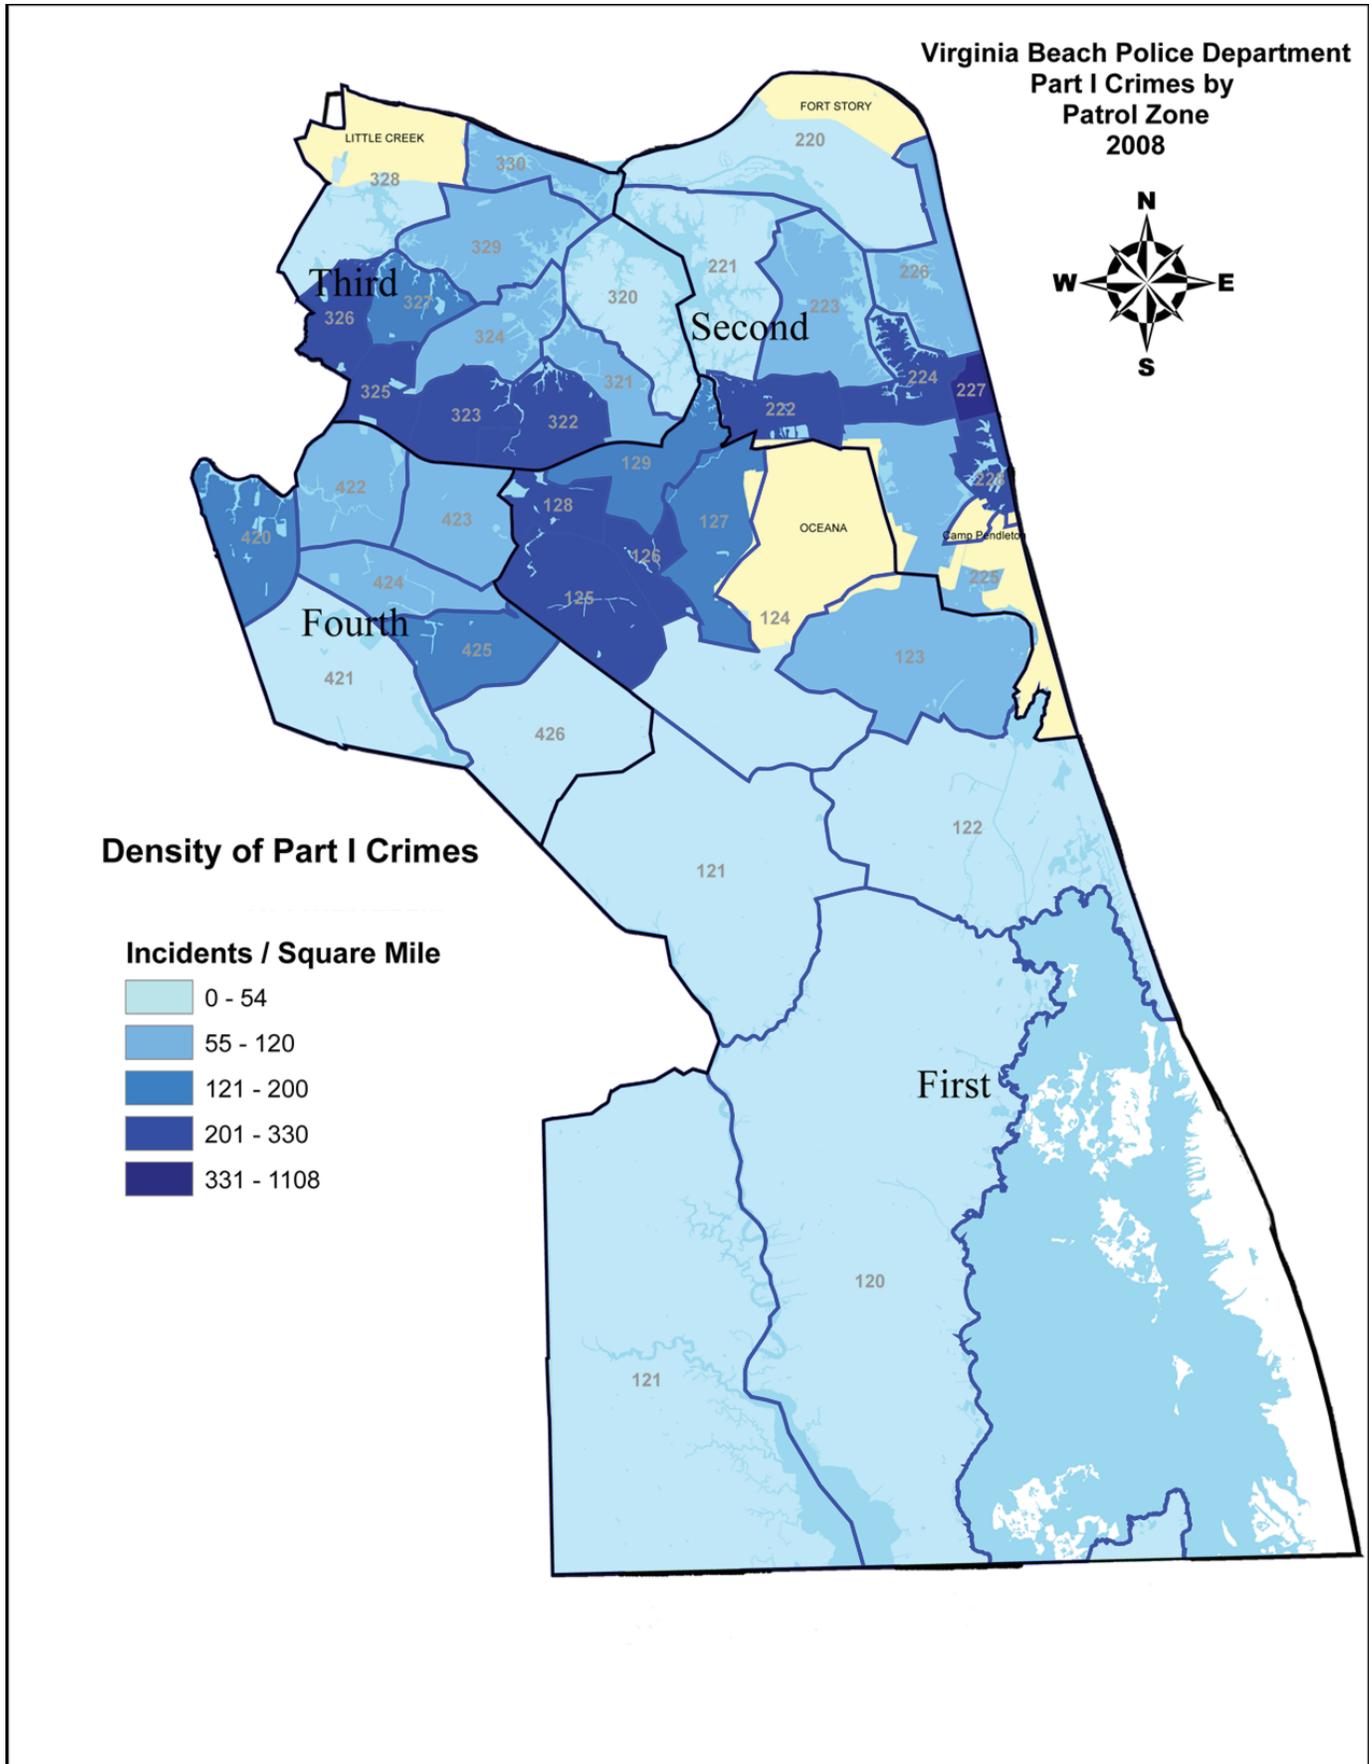

Several additional modules for the department's records management system were implemented. The modules provide additional functionality and efficiency. These additions include canine, animal control, permits, and gang modules.

Initial planning was completed for the implementation of the PhotoSafe (red light camera) program and the false alarm reduction program. These programs will be fully implemented by early 2009.

REPORTED CRIMES

VIRGINIA BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENT 2008 ANNUAL REPORT

Incident Based Reporting (IBR) is a federal and state system for collecting and reporting crime data. Three major differences exist between the IBR system and the old reporting system, Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR).

First is the expansion of the 8 UCR Part I Crimes to 22 IBR Group A Crimes. Many of the offenses previously recorded in the Other Reported Offenses Report (Part II Crimes) are now included in the Group A Crimes list. Second is the method of submitting data. Under the UCR system, summary data was submitted for the Part I offenses and arrest categories. Under the current IBR system, up to 144 data elements for each incident and arrest are submitted. And finally, under the IBR, each offense (the crime) that occurs during the incident (the event) is counted. Under the UCR rules, only the most severe offense is counted. For example, if a rape and robbery occurred in the same incident, under IBR, both the rape and robbery are counted. Under the UCR system, only the rape is counted.

IBR requires strict adherence to rules set by the state. If a rule is not strictly followed, the incident cannot be submitted. This sometimes occurs when information required by the state conflicts with the facts of the case.

Please note that the figures on this report may differ from those released at the local level. This discrepancy is due to the strict requirements for submission. The Virginia Beach Police Department will continue to provide data in the UCR format so that comparisons and trends can be identified using the same methodology. Comparisons between UCR data and IBR data should not be made due to different collection methods.
