

Volunteering in FY 18-19

The Full Spectrum

The past year introduced tremendous highs and lows for the City of Virginia Beach. Both the organization and the community were challenged beyond their perceived limits. What this year also did was shine a light so bright on the unique humanity of our great city. Following the Something in the Water Festival, a time that brought volunteers, employees and residents an overwhelming sense of pride and unity, Mayor Dyer made a statement,

“Some say that it is Something in the Water that makes this place unlike any other... I say it is something in the people.”

There is something in our people. The origins of which come from a shared vision to make our community, our families and our City a better place.

Volunteer Resource Managers

More than 120 individuals take on the role of Volunteer Resource Manager, Volgistics Operator and Volunteer Supervisor as an added responsibility in their work units. With their leadership, the City partners with members of the community to ensure the highest quality of service to our citizens. It is because of Volunteer Resource Managers that Virginia Beach has such an outstanding level of community engagement and we are so thankful for their dedication and leadership.

We invite you to become a part of our volunteer workforce. Visit www.vbgov.com/volunteer for more information.
